Judy takes over the key spot after having served as associate editor.

Byron has become advertising manager after serving as a reporter last year.

A senior, majoring in elementary education, Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Koch, of Louisville. She was an honor graduate from Atherton High School and held the position of feature editor on the staff of her junior high school paper. Judy is also Club Editor of the 1955 Talisman and is a member of the Education Council. Majoring in geography, Byron is also a senior. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Announcements of these appointments to the staff of the bi-weekly paper were made by Kelly Thompson, advisor, and Miss Frances Richards, journalism teacher for the English department.

Players Will Present Comedy Wednesday

The Western Players will present the first of four student directed productions, the light comedy "Ways and Means", Wednesday night, in Van Meter Auditorium. The play, starring Chico Ary and Betty Webb, will be produced by Maurice Utley and directed by Mary Lynn Phillips.

Noel Coward's comedy in three scenes will feature newcomers Julius Rather, James Owens, Wanda Reynolds, and Shirley Chandler. Carol Cheal, Bill Doyle, and Bob Kellogg fill out the cast.

The dramatic club began their year's activities last week with an open house at the Kentucky building. The primary purpose of the open house was to interest new students in the club, as well as to outline the year's schedule of activities. Refreshments were served, and entertainment was furnished by Jane Skinner, violinist, and by a skit written by Wayne Everly, presenting scenes from plays which the club has produced in the past, such as, "The Heiress," "Taming of the Shrew," and "Lost in the Stars."

This year, the Western Players will be under the sponsorship of Miss Justine Lynn, of the English department, in the absence of their regular sponsor, Russell H. Miller, who is taking a year's leave of absence to do graduate work at Columbia University.

Officers of the organization are George Reece, president; Mary Ward, first vice-president; Cathy Allen, second vice-president; Carol Cheal, secretary; Wendell Couls, treasurer; and Pat VanWinkle, historian.

Besides four productions under student directorship, the Players will feature other activities, such as the annual Homecoming Luncheon on Nov. 6; field trips to Louisville, Nashville, and Cincinnati to observe plays presented by other dramatic groups; the Regional High School Drama Festival, for which the Western Players will play host to groups from various high schools from this area and will aid in the presentation of their one-act plays; and finally, the Farewell Dinner at the close of the year.

Cheerleaders Chosen In Chapel

An unusually large number of students attended chapel last Wednesday to elect five cheerleaders for the coming year. Those competing were given a chance to lead the students in a yell, and the audience's reaction by cheering was the factor that decided who would be elected.

The five elected were: Durraine Bailey, sophomore; Martha Sue Fiqua, freshman; Bobby Hensley, sophomore; "Coco" Richardson, sophomore; and Jane Lovell, freshman.

While the judges were deciding the winners Coach Ed Diddle made a short talk and led the students in a yell. Coach Jack Clayton was introduced and after a short talk he introduced his assistants, Coaches Frank Griffin and Turner Elrod who presented the team to the students. The Western band provided the music for the program.

Dr. H. L. Stevens, head of the Biology department, presided over the program assisted by Dr. Ward Sumpter, of the Chemistry department.

Maj. Gen. Smythe Is Visiting Army ROTC Unit Today

Maj. Gen. George W. Smythe, Second Army Deputy Commander, is visiting the Army ROTC unit of Western today.

General Smythe will get a first hand picture of our ROTC program. He will visit classes in session and at the same time assist in solving any problems that may exist.

The outstanding contribution of top grade ROTC graduates to the Army has greatly increased the value of ROTC training in the eyes of military leaders.

The Commanding General of the Second Army recognizes the importance of the ROTC program in sending his deputy, General Smythe, to Western on this visit.

Dr. A. M. Stickles Retires After Serving Western For 46 1-2 Years

Dr. A. M. Stickles, prominently known historian and head of the History department at Western for 46½ years, retired from active teaching at the end of this past summer session.

With his retirement from the college faculty, Dr. Stickles completed the longest service record any instructor has ever attained here. He joined the History department staff as head of the department in January, 1908, one year after Western opened its doors as a state-supported college.

Few students ever attended Western who have not been acquainted with Dr. Stickles. His record of service to the college is longer than that of any other person connected with the institution. His 46½ years also stand as a national record for a professor at the same accredited institution of higher learning.

Dr. Stickles received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Indiana University in 1897 and did a year of graduate study at the University of Illinois in 1898. In 1901 he became head of the Department of History and Economics at Elkhart, Indiana High School, and from 1903 until he joined the Western staff in 1908, he was head of the History department at Evansville, Indiana, Central High School.

In 1904 he received the Master of Arts degree in history from Indiana University. In 1909-10 he held a teaching scholarship at Harvard University, where he also received a Master's degree in 1910. In 1923

Mr. Wilson, although having no formal training in art until he was twenty-two years old, has had a tremendous love for art since a very early age.

His first paintings were done entirely with oils, but in 1935, he began using water colors and has since worked exclusively in this medium.

He has traveled extensively, attending art lectures and exhibits in several museums, colleges, and universities in most of the Eastern states and in several Midwestern states.

Museums which have exhibited his works include William Rockhill Nelson Galleries at Kansas City, Mo.; Isaac Delgabb Museum at New Orleans; the Oganquit Art Museum at Oganquit, Me., at which

This Is Your Paper

The College Heights Herald belongs to YOU—the students of Western. Its job is to serve you—to tell of your accomplishments, to report on your activities, to praise your triumphs, and to criticize your shortcomings.

It must be informative, as well as entertaining.

Being a bi-monthly paper, the Herald can hardly be expected to be as timely as a daily. Nor in its limited space can it be expected to print news of events which do not directly pertain to Western.

The Herald's coverage, however, can and should be accurate, pertinent, concise, and complete. It must meet the standards set up by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. This job is a tremendous task for the editor and her staff, for they comprise a small part of the student body.

In this issue and in the ones to follow we will do our utmost to live up to the above requirements with the realization, however, that you can't please all of the people all of the time.

Therefore we ask you—Western students—to feel free to voice any complaints or praise you may have on any phase of the Herald's coverage.

Keep It Up

School spirit and enthusiasm have long been a tradition at Western, and this year's new students as well as the old have already given added impetus to this tradition through their cheering and ardent support of campus activities.

Without the cheering crowd in our stadium last Saturday night, our football team may not have fought so hard to win in the last few minutes of play. Whether the team is winning or losing, however, the players need the encouragement of the fans' wholehearted support.

A crowded chapel last week proved that our students can yell with a fervor that would make any school proud. Keep on attending the pep rallies and remember that Bowling Green merchants have no objections to your 'painting the town' with slogans for home games, if you ask their permission first.

Not only is the school spirit on the up-grade, but also chapel attendance has increased, as has participation in other campus activities which help round out one's college life.

You've made a wonderful beginning—let's keep it up!

AFTER ALL HENRY IT'S ONLY A NICKEL!

HILLTOPICS

By JUDY KOCH

It's hard to believe that three weeks have elapsed since we 'sweat out' the lines to register, to pay, and to buy books. By now most of us have settled down to the routine of going to classes, forgetting to do homework, ascending and descending the Hill. Or have we?

As far as going to classes—most of the students' pink schedule cards have been discarded in favor of their somewhat less reliable memory to find the right room at the right time. Nevertheless there have been few tardies and even fewer absences, so that is one routine we seem to have down pat.

Forgetting to do homework is an ailment common to most college students, even seniors. Its effects are especially strenuous when someone asks you if you've read the ten chapters you've forgotten were assigned for a class which meets in five minutes. Judging from the frantic looks on the faces of some of the students in the halls between classes, this routine will never change. In fact, some of our faster, upper-classmen readers owe their reading proficiency to forgetting to do homework until a few minutes before class.

If you have mastered the above mentioned activities, you have, by necessity, ascended and descended the Hill. But this is one feat which never becomes routine; for no matter how many years you attend Western, the Hill is always harder to climb for an eight o'clock class than it is for a football game or a dance.

To you freshmen this fall, who may erroneously think the afore mentioned mishaps are unique with you, the Herald wishes to extend a hearty welcome. We also want to welcome back the upperclassmen and urge them to make the new students feel at home. Not too much urging seems to be necessary, however, for our almost seven hundred freshmen have already shown tremendous school spirit and have enthusiastically given their support to Western's activities.

We want you freshmen to have a good time, to mix well socially, and to participate in extracurricular activities, but please do not forget that you are here primarily to get an education from books as well as from people.

Over 1,000,000 Americans began their college careers this fall, but more than one-third of them will fail to graduate. The reasons why are numerous. Most of you are a little frightened at taking the big step of entering college, especially when you realize that it isn't Grade 13 in high school, and the teachers are no longer coddling you but are making you think for yourselves. Many will quit school for personal reasons, but many will quit because they are not grown up enough to be in college. You have adult responsibilities now, and you must act as an adult to adequately cope with them.

An excellent beginning for any freshman would be to read "How to Stay in College" by Robert U. Jameson in the Oct. 2 issue of The Saturday Evening Post. In fact, any college student would profit from reading this article.

Mr. Jameson tells of the pitfalls freshmen face—"from bewilderment to booze, from goofing to grandstanding"—and he tells how to avoid them. "College is a place in which a person can learn how to learn," he says, "and intellectual independence, the first requisite of college, is often a distinct shock to a freshman."

No, this doesn't mean that you must keep your nose buried in a book in order to stay in college, for learning the game of life from people is just as important as learning facts from books. Just remember to balance your social and school activities, and not to emphasize one to the neglect of the other.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank those who made it possible for me to be editor of the College Heights Herald this year. To President Paul L. Garrett, Mr. Kelly Thompson, our advisor, and Miss Frances Richards, our journalism instructor, I wish to express my sincere appreciation for selecting me for this honor. To D. Mac Caldwell, last year's editor, and Bob Cochran, our consultant, a big thank you for patiently instructing me in the rudiments of editing the paper.

Carrying on the traditionally high standards the Herald has attained in the past will be a hard job but I hereby pledge myself and my staff to reach these goals and to make this the Herald's most outstanding year.

Musical Notes

By BARBARA EUBANK

We are glad to see Dr. Steven Barwick, head of Western's piano department, returning to the fold of the Music department after a leave of absence. Dr. Barwick left last fall to resume his piano studies in New York.

On September 16, fifteen girls and boys tried out for the position of drum major and majorette. Four majorettes were chosen: Dianne Ferren, a freshman from Decatur, Ga.; Shirley be chosen later. Drum majors were Scottsville; and Shirley Grooms, a freshman from Campbellsville; and Kitty Buren, a junior from Danville have been elected. The others will be chosen later. Drum majors were elected last week. They are Shirley Barnes, a freshman from Beaver Dam, and Jerry Williams, a freshman from Henderson.

James Jensen, '53, returned to Western for a visit a few weeks ago. Mr. Jensen received his Master's degree last August at a Midwestern college.

Tuesday night, September 28, was the Music department's annual picnic at Beech Bend Park. Mrs. Nellie Gooch Travelstead, a member of Western's music faculty, was in charge of arrangements. Games were played and supper was enjoyed by all. Hats off to Mrs. Travelstead and the picnic committee for a lovely time.

Three Join Western Faculty

Three members have been added to the Western faculty, according to Dr. F. C. Grise, Dean of the College.

Mr. Earl M. Borman, BM Oberlin College, and graduate work at Colorado State College of Education, takes the place occupied by David Pownall, who had a temporary assignment in the Music department.

Miss Della Mae Daniels, BS '43, MA '48, Western, has been employed to take the place of Miss Nancy B. Reeder, second-grade teacher, Training School, who has retired. Miss Daniel taught at Wayland Alexander Grade school and Hartford High school, both at Hartford. She taught at Center Street school, Bowling Green, before coming to the Training School.

Mr. George Bennet, BS, MS, University of Kentucky, has taken the place in the Biology department formerly occupied by Mrs. Evelyn Braker.

Dr. Steven Barwick has returned from a year's leave of absence during which he studied under Claudio Arrau in New York City. During his absence, his classes were taught by Dr. Johannes Smit, who was on temporary employment.

Capt. Garrett Commended For Sea Rescue

By JUDY KOCH

"We are very proud of his accomplishments and good fortune." These are the words of President Paul L. Garrett and Mrs. Garrett upon learning of the citation their son, Capt. Paul E. Garrett, received for aiding in the recent rescue of a group of airmen shot down by a Soviet jet fighter in the sea between Russia and Japan.

"The fact that he is coming home soon made the news especially nice," said the Garretts.

Captain Garrett, co-pilot of an amphibian rescue plane, received the recognition from Brig. Gen. Thomas J. DuBose at Air Rescue headquarters, Orlando Air Force Base, Fla.

His plane was one of four that succeeded in rescuing nine surviving crew members from the sea after their U. S. Navy plane had been shot down on September 4.

"We don't know about the rescue until we read it in the paper," said Mrs. Garrett, who has a right to be proud of her son's work with the 3rd Air Force Rescue Service. Although he has taken part in several rescue missions, Captain Garrett has been recently doing personnel and control tower work for the group. Through his duties in the control tower, he learned of the rescue mission, and his decision to help was purely voluntary.

Captain Garrett was commended for upholding the highest traditions of the Military Air Transport Service's Air Rescue motto, "that others may live".

Bill Harris Heads Arts And Crafts Club

Bill Harris, senior at Western, book secretary, Grover Jefferson will head the Arts and Crafts club this semester. Harris was elected president at the organization's first meeting held Monday night.

Other officers elected were Richard Baker, vice-president; Joe Te-and Ewell Scott, treasurers; Bob Swenck, Sergeant-at-Arms; John Moore, reporter.

Thirty-two members were present.

Van Meter Gets Face Lifting

By JANE WINCHESTER

One excitement of returning to school in the fall is to discover what has happened since our last attendance. Perhaps one of the most exciting discoveries this fall is the change which has taken place at Van Meter Auditorium.

A most striking feature in this renovation is that all seats on the lower floor have been replaced with new, upholstered seats, and all broken seats in the balcony have been removed and replaced. The doors have been re-covered with the same material as the seat covers.

The radiators have been removed and there is a new red and grey asphalt tile floor.

Other changes include a restoration of the original ventilation equipment, a new plywood floor laid in the auditorium, a new stage floor, a new apron at the entrance to the building, repair work on the steps of the entrance, and the undertaking of a redecorating program.

However, this is not all, as Western students have seen the new, deep, royal red stage curtain as well as a modern stage lighting system with sunken footlights and a complete cycle from darkness to bright dim-outs. The building is also being repaired where necessary, and plastering and redecorating done.

The work is being done through the appropriation of $25,000.00 granted to Western for this purpose by the State Property and Building commission. The work is continuing as fast as possible and will do so until the entire program is completed.

Miss Reeder Honored At Coffee

The Parent-Teacher Association of Western Training School entertained with a coffee last Thursday afternoon in the Kentucky Building to compliment Miss Nancy Reeder, of Hopkinsville, who resigned last June as second grade teacher of the Training School. The hours were from 3:15 until 5:00 and approximately 200 guests called.

Mrs. J. G. Denhardt, Jr., and Mrs. Maxey B. Harlin greeted the guests at the door, and Mrs. Harry B. Walker was in charge of the guest register. In the receiving line were Dr. C. H. Jagers, director of the Training School; Miss Reeder and her sister, Miss Sophie Reeder, of Hopkinsville; Miss Della Mae Daniel, new teacher of the second grade; Mrs. Joseph H. Mayfield, president of the P. T. A., and Mrs. C. H. Jagers.

Presiding at the coffee table were Mrs. L. G. Byars and Mrs. Charles M. Moore, who were assisted by Rebbecca Claggett and Suzanne Claypool.

During the afternoon a musical program was presented by Phyllis Deloiteus, Ann Moore, Lucy Schow, and Patsy Huggins, under the direction of Miss Gertrude Bales.

Miss Reeder was presented an orchid corsage by the children of the Training School and a gift by the P. T. A. The gift was an old-fashioned brooch containing the picture of Miss Reeder's mother, who is 100 years old.

Miss Reeder taught at the Training School for twenty-five and one half years. She began teaching there on January 30, 1929. She received the AB degree from Western and the MA degree from Columbia Teachers College.

Education Council Will Meet Oct. 19

The Education Council will hold its first meeting of the fall semester Tuesday, Oct. 19, at 7 P.M., in Room No. 1, Student Union Building.

The purpose of the meeting will be the election of officers and organization of the club for the coming year.

While in Boston, she saw the opening performance of Forgy and Bess which recently made a successful European tour.

Miss Stonecipher visited friends in Hanover, N. H., and Chautauqua N. Y., before returning to Western.

Miss Temple sailed from New York City on the S. S. United States, landing at Le Havre, France. After spending a few days in France, she flew from Paris to Madrid, Spain.

While in Spain, she visited Cordova, Seville, and Granada. Miss Temple visited the places of burial of King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella, which are located in Granada. Another point of interest was the Prado Museum in Madrid, which is very rich in Spanish painting. The art teacher especially enjoyed the paintings of El Greco, El Escorial, and old monastery which was built by Phillip II during the height of Spanish power, was another highlight of her trip.

Miss Temple also made a tour of Normandy, Caen, and Mont St. Michel before returning home on the S. S. America.

Miss Justine Lynn, of the English department and sponsor of the Western Players, attended the Bread Loaf Writers Conference, which was held for two weeks during the summer in Middleburg, Vt. At the conference, Miss Lynn was privileged to hear several lectures by Robert Frost, noted American poet.

Before returning to Bowling Green, Miss Lynn visited friends in Syracuse, N. Y.

Alumni News

There is much good news to report in this first issue of the Herald.

The life time memberships in the Alumni Association are coming in but the goal of 500 is still far away. To date we have 38 life members.

Since the first list was published in the summer issue of the Herald we have 16 new members. They are: Miss Mary Marks, member Geography department at Western AB '27; Miss Erceel Jane Egbert, member History department at Western, AB '25; Miss Marjorie Clagett, member French department at Western, Life Certificate '20. Mrs. Gertrude Casebler Oswald, Hutchinson Kan., AB '27; August Winkenhof Jr., attorney at law, Bowling Green, Ky., AB '37; Miss Lourine Cave, member of Psychology department at Western, AB '40; Nellie Wallace, elementary teacher at Hyden, Ky., AB '37, MA '54; Mrs. L. P. Reford, 902 State St., Bowling Green, Ky., BS '54; Josephine Bennett, Vine Grove, Ky.; Prudy Oglesby, Clay Ky., AB '47, MA '54; Capt. Paul E. Garrett, USAF, AB '47; Burton C. Jones; commercial teacher at Stokes high school, Lakeview, Ohio, MA '53; John E. Howe, 748 Yale Ave., University City, Missouri, AB '40; Dr. Richard F. Grise, surgeon, Bowling Green, Ky., BS '52; Mrs. Marquette Sosh, third grade teacher in Bowling Green, Ky. city schools, BS '54, and Dr. R. Paul Terrell, head of Geography department at Western, AB '37.

A Life member who was unintentionally left out of the first list is Mr. Harvey W. Loy, 1656 Pacific Ave., Fresno, Calif., Life Certificate '12. Mr. Loy sent his Life Membership in 1950 prior to the present drive to enlist 500. He is a retired teacher from 'back east' now teaching in California because of the shortage of teachers. He has taught seven years in the Kerman Union Junior-Senior high school, Kerman, Calif. In a letter to Alumni Association President Paul Huddleston, Mr. Loy states that he has now taught a total of 50 years. He also says, "I know there is no more loyal and proud of Old Normal alumnus than Harvey W. Loy". Mr. Loy sent his greetings to "Uncle Billy" Craig and Dr. A. M. Stickle, the grandest of his old teachers.

Now is the time for a reminder concerning the regular Alumni dues for those not Life Members. Don't forget to mail your dollar to take care of this year's Association dues. Your dues also give you a subscription to the Herald.

The Life memberships cost $10. A man and his wife who are both graduates can each get Life memberships for $15.

More good news is that Larry and Amos Stone and Ralph Utley, all Westerners, have established through their newspapers, the Central City Messenger and Times-Argus, an annual $100 scholarship to Western. The recipient of this scholarship comes from Muhlenberg County high schools and is selected by the superintendents of the three high schools in the county.

The first scholarship was won this year by Dalton W. Wells, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Wells, Belton, a graduate of Hughes-Kirkpatrick high school. Judges were Muhlenberg county Superintendent Robert Forsythe, Central City Superintendent George T. Taylor, and Greenville Superintendent O. L. Adams.

President Paul Huddleston has set a goal of 100 such scholarships to be in operation by next year.

Debate Club Will Sponsor Campaign

During the next three weeks, the Congress Debating Club will conduct a senatorial campaign climaxed by a mock election on Friday, Oct. 29. Four of the club's members will present a series of campaign speeches at the organization's meeting on Oct. 25 and in chapel, Oct. 27.

Lacy Wilkins and Frank Grochelle will campaign in behalf of Senator John S. Cooper, while Bob Baggett and Walt Apperson will speak for former Vice-president, Alben W. Barkley.

This project, entitled "A Lesson in Democracy", will begin at the Congress Debating Club meeting, Monday night, when the speakers will be representatives from the Young Democratic and Young Republican clubs of Warren county. Their subjects will concern the Kentucky senatorial campaign.

The organization has announced that there are two chief purposes in presenting such a program. First, it will acquaint the students with the management and conduction of a political campaign and with the issues involved in the Kentucky senatorial race. Second, it will encourage the students to realize their civic obligations and to exercise their rights as citizens.

The debating group met Sept. 20 in the Student Union building. Elizabeth McWhorter, president for this semester, presided. Other officers, Sterling Clark, vice-president; Charles Hardcastle, sergeant-at-arms; and sixteen members and prospective members were present. Dr. Willson E. Wood, of the English department, was introduced as the faculty sponsor.

'Tops In Sports

By JOE TEBOREK

Crowded stadiums, marching bands, referees' whistles and cheering fans remind us that the great American sport of football is here once again. With talk of the World Series still ringing in our ears, we now focus our attention to the gridiron. Thousands of fans all over the country train their thoughts on Saturday afternoons to this classic.

We here at Western are concerned with our own team, which promises to be one of the great teams ever to wear the Red and Grey. The O.V.C. is tough this year, as it has been in years past, and from all indications it is still anybody's conference.

Now that the football season is a month old, and our own team is off to a good start, we look forward to each game with great anticipation. The Topper's great backfield has given us many thrills, playing behind a superb forward wall. Coach Jack Clayton, with his coaching staff have worked hard to create a smooth working ball club.

With the addition of new talent to the team, the prospects for the future are very enlightening. We look forward to the teams of tomorrow. But let's not forget those stars of yesterday. Missing from the Hilltopper lineup this year are fellows like Max Stevens, Gene McFadden, Bill Ploumis, George Saur, and others who turned in great performances last year. Let's not consider these boys has-beens, because many of them worked hard for four years to make a name for our team. But time marches on and all of us must look to the future.

I've been praising the team, now I would like to give a little credit, where credit is due. This goes out to all of you loyal Western fans. I truly believe that the old Hilltopper spirit you have shown needs a little praise also.

Last week at chapel I was happy to see the student body turn out with such enthusiasm for the election of cheerleaders. You elected five good cheerleaders and now I know you will work with them and give them all your cooperation in backing the team. Jerry Passafiume told you the other night at the pep-rally, what it means to the team when they hear the fans cheering them on. This is our part to play, so let us show the team we're behind them 100 per cent. My hat goes off to you, the Western fan!

Bryson Joins AFROTC Staff

Lt. Frank Bryson has become a member of the faculty in the Air Force ROTC Department. He will take the position vacated by Maj. Allan P. Adair, former freshman instructor. Prior to coming to Western, Lieutenant Bryson received an academic instructors course at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama.

Lieutenant Bryson, who hails from Ashland, was graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1949. He received a BS degree in commerce. He was commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant through the Air Force ROTC unit at the University of Kentucky. Graduating from flying school in March, 1951, he served as a flying instructor in multi-engine aircraft before going to Korea.

Lieutenant Bryson recently finished a tour of duty in Korea, where he served with the 6147 Tactical Control Group. While serving with this outfit, he flew the T-6 Tactical air craft for observer missions to direct fighter bombers on close air support.

OVC Cross Country Meet Will Be Held At Morehead Oct. 30

The Ohio Valley Conference cross country championship meet will be held at Morehead on October 30.

The winning team will be presented a handsome trophy, and the first ten finishers will receive a medal.

Those who are interested in participating in the meet, please notify or see Coach Turner Elrod at once.

Students Aid Billy Graham Crusade

Two Western students acted as counselors during the Greater Nashville Crusade held by Dr. Billy Graham, well-known mass evangelist, August 22-September 19. Ed Gore and Fred Denton attended the Personal Workers Conference before the crusade started. Gore stayed in Nashville for the entire time, working in personal visitation during the day. For the last two weeks, he was in charge of distributing counseling material and seating the counselors throughout the congregation. Denton went on different nights, counseling with persons who made decisions. Among other students who attended services at different times included: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rideout, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Fridy, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McGehee, Mr. and Mrs. John Gorrell, Mr. and Mrs. John Tapscott, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Bewley, Mr. and Mrs. John Holloman, Jean Akin, Gaye Lively, Barbara Wilkins, Cecilia Overstreet, Jean Topmiller, Wanda Moseley, Owen Arnold, Don Bell, George Gillespie, and John Moore.

YMCA Holds Clinic For Cheerleaders

Cheerleaders from all high schools throughout south central and western Kentucky were invited by the YMCA to attend the second annual Cheerleaders Clinic held at Western last Saturday.

In conjunction with the Cheerleaders Clinic this year the YMCA added a Youth Day held on the college campus at the same time. Students from the same high schools the cheerleaders came from were invited to participate in the Youth Day.

Registration for both groups was held in Van Meter Auditorium beginning at 1 p.m. The Cheerleaders Clinic was held in the Western gymnasium starting at 2 P.M. The Youth Day program was opened at 2 P.M. in Van Meter Auditorium.

The program for the cheerleaders included a discussion by a five-man panel on "Cheerleading and Its Importance". The panel consisted of A. D. Litchfield, YMCA State Secretary, chairman; Charles J. Vettiner, Jefferson County Recreation Director; Carlos Oakley, superintendent of Union County schools; H. B. Grey, principal of Bowling Green High school, and Forest Able, member of Western's basketball team.

Following the panel discussion the Western cheerleaders conducted cheers with the entire group. A tour of the campus concluded the afternoon activities. The cheerleaders were guests of Western at the Middle Tennessee-Western football game Saturday night.

The Youth Day panel consisted of Kelly Thompson, assistant to the president, chairman; Dr. F. C. Grise, dean of the college; E. H. Canon, Western's registrar; Dr. H. L. Stephens, head of the Biology department, and Ted Hornback, head of the department of health, physical education, and athletics.

Western's Undefeated Football Team Invades Morehead Tomorrow

Western will be out to make it number four in the win column tomorrow against the Eagles of Morehead. With three victories under their belt, the Toppers face a strong OVC opponent.

TOPPERS-7, MTSC-6

Western won its first OVC game as they downed Middle Tennessee's Blue Raiders 7-6 in the closing minutes of play last Saturday.

The Hilltoppers' touchdown was set up in the waning minutes of the game when guard Arnie Oakknifed through to block quarterback Francis Reynolds' kick from the Raider end zone. The ball went out of bounds on the Tennesseans' 16 yard line.

Then the fire works began. Western's quarterback Jerry Nassano hit end Mike Moriarity with an eight-yard pass. Fullback Millard Shirley took over for three running plays to move the ball to the Middle Tennessee four-yard stripe with only one second of playing time remaining.

Nassano then handed off to sophomore halfback Jim Chambliss who scotched across the double stripes as the game ended.

You never saw a wilder 4,000 when Chambliss crashed through to the end zone. And then a flag fell.

The crowd was silent, hoping that the penalty would not be against Western. The Raiders were off-side, and it didn't take Co-Captains Jerry Passafiume and Jim Phifer long to choose the play. The 4,000 fans broke into pandemonium as Brantley's kick sailed through the uprights for the extra-point, an a 7-6 Western win.

Middle Tennessee got off to a lightning start with a scoring march in the early minutes of the first quarter. The Raiders scored on a 20-yard pass from quarterback Jimmy Dunlap to end Gene Sadler, capping a drive which had moved the ball from their own 48. Garner Ezell missed the try from placement. And the Raiders led 6-0.

The remainder of the contest was strictly a battle of lines. Neither team was able to penetrate the territory of the opposition until late in the fourth quarter when Western's Joe Cunningham recovered a fumble on the Western 48.

The Hilltoppers caught fire and moved the ball to the Middle Tennessee five only to lose possession on a fumble. And it was at this point that Reynolds dropped back into his end zone for his ill-fated punt attempt.

WESTERN-24, ETSC-6

Western made it two wins in a row with an impressive victory over East Tennessee, at Johnson City, on September 25.

Western was led by Jim Gunnell and Millard Shirley as they rode their flying legs to a 24-6 Hilltopper victory, by collaborating on a spectacular total of 228 yards in 26 runs.

Shirley and Gunnell each scored a touchdown, with sophomores Jim Chambliss and Mike Moriarity adding the other two.

Jerry Nassano connected on nine of his first 11 aeriels and finished with 12 completions in 17 attempts for 110 yards.

The battle of statistics was won by the Hilltoppers. The Toppers made 20 first downs to 9 for East Tennessee, piled up 285 on the ground to 60 for their opponent and had 109 yards by passing to 111 for the Tennesseans.

Yardage figures show East Tennessee was held to a minus 7 yards on the ground in the first half.

TOPS BEAT WITTENBERG 32-13
Over 3,000 fans saw Jerry Nassano make a spectacular debut as Western's starting quarterback in directing the Hilltoppers to a 32-13 victory over Wittenberg, on September 18.

The 175-pound junior not only scored one touchdown, but also passed for a second, set up a third with his bombs, and stole two enemy aeriels in a sound all-around performance.

The crowd was shocked into silence at the first quarter's end when Wittenberg wiped out the Hilltoppers lead in two plays and went ahead 7-6.

Then Nassano came to the Hilltopper rescue by making an interception on his 34 and carrying the ball back to the Ohioans' 20.

Three plays later Nassano was in the end zone with the touchdown that sent Western ahead to stay.

Sophomore Fullback Wayne Duncan scored two of Western's touchdowns. Nassano, Halfback Jim Chambliss, and Fullback Millard Shirley latched on the others.
